GEOMETRIC ABSTRACTION: THE WORLD OF SHAPES & FORMS IN SPACE

The following art collection is comprised of Dariana Arias' works on paper, focusing on geometric abstraction. This series has never been exhibited in public, and it is only available for viewing thru the artist's official website, on her online museum.

This art collection is a reflection of the artist's interest in sharp lines, soft curves, amorphous shapes, geometric patterns and color -in relation to each other in space.

This series is the artist's first collection focusing on geometric abstraction.

Enjoy!

The development and evolution of visual expressions (specifically symbols and abstract markings) as a means of communication is fascinating. One question worthy of contemplation is, what can be considered as "proto-writing"? Can unconsciously-constructed artistic ideograms or symbols, be considered a prototype of a potential writing system conveying a transcendental message? If so, how do we come up with a decoding system in order to retrieve the message? Does "instinctual art" or "automatic artistic markings" hold any type of information? What do you see in the above drawing?
